

Dear our Stakeholders,

We thank you for your interest in and support for the Sumitomo Corporation Group.

Sumitomo Corporation Report on Responsibility & Sustainability 2011 has been prepared under the theme: “Growing Together.” A special feature of the report is a discussion between Susumu Kato, President and CEO of Sumitomo Corporation, and Professor Scott Davis of the College of Business at Rikkyo University in Tokyo. In the discussion, President Kato outlines the Sumitomo Corporation Group’s ideas for building a sustainable society by pursuing the creation of new value, through every single member of the Group works together with our partners to achieve cross-boundary growth across regions, generations, and organizations.

As a new approach of our CSR reporting, we summarize how each of our seven business units works to create social value in a way that seeks a more effective fulfillment of CSR, utilizing the original strengths of the Sumitomo Corporation Group.

Also under the theme “Growing Together,” business activities we carry out based on our ideas and principles for CSR are reported. The examples used are our telecommunications infrastructure business to support socio-economic development in Mongolia, our food businesses to ensure a stable supply of safe foods, and a wide range of our businesses pursuing sustainable energy supply.

Sumitomo Corporation regards this report as an important communication tool to connect us with our stakeholders. We always appreciate feedback from you.

Yours Sincerely,

Environment & CSR Department
